ALLY CHIMERAH

FrontEnd Developer

ABOUT ME

I am a motivated,result-driven and keen-to-detail Front End web developer, with three(3) freelancing years of experience. I am currently a Computer Science Major with a strong interest in Front End Development. I possess a great work ethic; and thus have and see no problem working on both solo and team projects . I am fascinated by the art of bringing designs and ideas to life through website development with a number of personal practice websites on my portfolio website.
